SOUTH FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE CONSISTS OF MANY DEPARTMENTS and programs, and yet we are all part of the same institution, operating with the same goals and with the need to create materials to communicate electronically and in print. By offering clear boundaries for producing these materials, SFSC's Guide to Visual Identity and Graphic Standards explains how the College creates a unique and immediately recognizable identity, expresses a consistent message about our vision and mission, maintains quality, and enhances our marketing outreach. All College staff are urged to adhere to these standards.

COMPONENTS OF SFSC'S GRAPHIC IDENTITY

College Logo, Seal, and Colors

The Logo

The community views South Florida State College as a single entity; therefore, a single logo has been developed for use throughout the College.

- Display the College logo prominently on all communications.
- Do not distort the logo in any way or add stylized effects to it (shadows, outlines, etc.)
- Do not reproduce the logo in unauthorized color schemes.
- Design materials so that the logo appears on a white background. If your design requires an alternative logo, contact the Office of Communications and Marketing at ext. 7379.
- Typefaces used to create the logo are Minion Pro Semibold ("South Florida") and Gibson Regular ("State College"). These typefaces are not commonly available on College computers; however, complementary typefaces are: Arial, Calibri, Constantia, and Georgia.

See Page 3 for complete guidelines for using the College logo.

For more information about the development of the SFSC logo, view the SFSC Logo Development Powerpoint presentation in the Public Relations Resources channel on Panther Central.

The Seal

The College Seal is the official, legal seal of South Florida State College. The seal is often reserved for official and ceremonial uses; however, it may appear on diplomas, certificates, awards, transcripts, policy manuals, regalia, commencement programs, formal invitations and notecards, and legal documents whenever authenticating signatures and authorizations are required. The seal symbolizes the formal authority vested in the College, and it is used at the discretion of the Office of the President.

Use the College logo, not the seal, on marketing materials and correspondence. The College Seal should not be used in conjunction with the College logo. If you believe you need to use the College Seal, contact the director of institutional communications at ext. 7379.

For more information about the development and symbolism of the College Seal, visit the Public Relations Resources channel on the Panther Central home page.

College Colors

Color provides a instant means of identification. Consistent use of SFSC’s official colors provides a common link among the College’s many offices, departments, programs, and campuses.

The College’s official colors are orange, white, and dark midnight blue. When designing materials, use orange and white prominently while limiting blue to an accent color. Don’t use blue as the dominant color.

SFSC’s official colors are based on the Pantone Matching System (PMS) for commercial printing. Reproduce them using these color formulas:

PMS 166: Official SFSC Orange

CMYK: For commercial, four-color printing:
Cyan: 0
Magenta: 64
Yellow: 100
Black: 0

RGB: For in-house and electronic materials:
Red: 243
Green: 123
Blue: 32

PMS 295: Official SFSC Blue

CMYK: For commercial, four-color printing:
Cyan: 93
Magenta: 90
Yellow: 31
Black: 20

RGB: For in-house and electronic materials:
Red: 51
Green: 51
Blue: 102

Color matching can be tricky. When ordering fabric, printed fabric, thread, paint, or similar materials, you may need to provide your vendor with a color swatch to use for matching colors correctly. Request one from the Office of Community Relations and Marketing.

Complementary Colors

The Office of Community Relations and Marketing has found these colors to be complementary to SFSC’s official colors. Although they are not recognizable identifiers for SFSC, they may be used to provide variety and visual interest in design.

Whenever SFSC operates in cooperation with another organization, the SFSC logo should be displayed as prominently as the logo of the partnering organization.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do I get a copy of the SFSC logo?

Contact the director of institutional communications at ext. 7379, or email kuehnlem@southflorida.edu.

Why doesn't the Community Relations office release the logo to everyone?

The Office of Community Relations and Marketing is responsible for ensuring that the College logo is used consistently and correctly. In keeping with this responsibility, we verify that the logo appears on all official College materials and that it is reproduced in the proper formats (e.g., JPEG, .EPS, .TIF, etc.). The Office also prevents the logo from being used incorrectly and in a manner that creates false impressions — such as, that the College sponsors non-affiliated events or endorses political candidates, business enterprises, religious institutions, or charitable organizations.

Can't I just copy the College logo off the website?

No. The website logo is a low-resolution, low-quality logo. If you need the logo, please request a high-quality version.

Why can't my department have its own logo?

South Florida State College is represented by a single logo. Considerable effort went into designing a logo that would be positively accepted by and recognized within our community. When this logo is used for marketing and business purposes, it verifies that a program, event, or employee is officially associated with the College and is not a third-party posing as SFSC.

Departments, offices, and programs may wish to create their own logo to distinguish themselves from others within the institution. However, the community sees South Florida State College as a single entity, and they are confused by a conglomerate of individual logos representing departments and programs. These logos diminish the visual strength of our College logo and devalue our marketing outreach.

College Policy 2.16, College Seal and Other Official College Symbols, addresses the use of the College Seal, graphic identity, official colors, and mascot.
